wish to own a handsome and fertile farm, to the following wish to own a handsome and fertile farm, to the following property which he offers for sale.

1st. Jackson Furnace and lands, say about 2500 neres.—
This furnace is on Beaver Dam Creek, Dickson county, Tennessee, and the stack is the largest in the State, being 67 feet high. The furnace, except the stack, is now being rebuilt, and will be ready to put in blast by the lst of Nevember. The route of the North Western Railroad, as surveyed, passes immediately by the Furnace. The ore is ansurpassed, and the timber and ground admirably adapted for coaling.

Also, Belieview Furnace, and about 2800 acres of land, including the Dickson ore bank. This Furnace is on Jones' Creek, about three miles South of Charlotte. There is a good water power, and also good farming lands attached to his property.

Also, the Valley Forge on Jones' Creek, and about 87,00 acres of land. The lall is 28 feet, and the head of water immense. There are some very fine farming lands in this tract, and it is altogether a upost desirable location.

Also, the Mill Creek property and Duck River ore bank in Hickman county, Tennessee. The Mill Creek sites, of which there are five or six, present the best water powers for the site of the stream that can be found in any country. The luck River ore bank in the heaviest decessite of one in

The Duck River ore bank is the heaviest deposite of ore in the State, and the ore can be procured with less labor than at any bank in the country. It is within half a mile of buck River, and the lands around are covered with the Also, the Lower Tunnel, at the Narrows of Harpeth, Davidson county, Tennessee, with ten arres of land for buildings and machinery. It is unnecessary to speak of the water power at the Narrows of Harpeth. It is known to every one, and twenty-five years of experience enables the subscriber to speak with ceruainty of its great lenefits and usefulness. It is, indeed, only to be seen to be appreciated. Lastly, my Williamson Farm, on which I now reside, and which for beauty and fertility is second to none. The house is large and airy, and the out-buildings of the best description. It is intersected by the Southern Railroad, and also by the Nashville and Franklin Turnpike. It is 11 miles from Nashville and 7 from Franklin. It is a "neadow farm," watered by Little Harpeth, and the best evidence of its quality is the hay produced on it this year, which all who have seen it, pronounce it the best they have ever seen. It is altogether one of the most desirable turns for beauty and profit that is in the South-west. It contains about 560

The above property is offered for sale, not for the purpose of profit or speculation, but simply from the fact that the subscriber's beatth, makes it necessary to relieve himself of the care, necessarily incident to so much real property le-cated at different points, and renders him anable to give it that personal attention which it requires. Any one wishing to purchase any of the above property will please call on the subscriber at his residence, or address bim at Good Spring 17, O., Williamson county, Tennecese. 10181-401 M. BELL.
Gueinnati Enquirer will publish the above until the 1st of January, 1854, and send bill to this office.

TEGROES FOR SALE. The subscriber has sev tial families of Negroes that he will sell at private sale to persons residents in this State, and who intend to teep them therein. Residence on the Nasl-ville and Franklin Turapike, 11 suiles from Nashville. M. BELL, PHILADELPHIA MEDICAL HOUSE.—Established 15 years ago by DR. KINKELIN. The oldest, surest and best hand to cure all forms of secret diseases of the skin, and solitary limits of youth, is DR. KINKELIN, N. W. corner of Third and Union streets, between Spruce and Pine, one and a half squares from the Exchange, Philadelphia.

Take Particular Notice.—There is a habit which boys teach each other at the academy or college—a habit in-dulged in when by themselves, in solitude, growing up with the bey to manbood, and which, if not abandoned in due time, not only begets serious obstacles to matrimonial happiness, but gives rise to a series of protracted, insidious and devistating affections. Few of those who indulge in this perhicious practice are aware of the consequences, until they ind the nervous system is shattered, feel strange and unac-countable feelings, tague fears to the mind. The individual becomes feeble, he is unable to labor with accustomed vigor, or to apply his mind to study, his step is lardy and weak, he is dull and irresolute, the countenance is downcast, the eves without natural lustre, shamefacedness is apparent.— These are symptoms which should awaken the attention of those similarly afflicted.

If the victim be conscious of the cause of his decay, and having relimpnished the odious practice, he suffers under those terrible necturnal emissions, which weaken and shame him, producing mental and physical prostration. If he emancipate hunself before the practice has done its worst, and enter matrimony, his marriage is unfruitful, and his senses tell him that this is caused by his early follies. Too many think they will hug the secret to their own hearts, and cure themselves. Alast how often is this a fatal delusion, and how many a promising youth, who might have been an ornament to society, has failed from the earth! Young Men!—Let no false modesty deter you from making your case known to one who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend you. He who places himself under DR. KINKELINS treatment, may religiously confide his honor as a gentleman, and in whose boson; will be for ever locked the secret of the patient. Country Invalids. Finding it inconvenient to make personal application, can, by stating their case explicitly, to gether with all their symptoms, (per letter post-paid,) have forwarded to them a chest containing Dr. K. s medicines, appropriated accordingly, and he cored at home.

Strictures of the uretha, weakness and constitutional debility, promptly cured, and full vigor restored. All letters post poid.

A remittance of 25 cents in a letter, post paid, addressed to Dr. Kinkelin, Philadelphia, will secure his book on the Secret Latirmities of Youth.

I NVIGORATING CORDIAL, a Phenomenon in Medicine. Health Restored and Life Longthened, by DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING ELIXIR OR CORDIAL.

For centuries, Medical science has been reasonable the vegetable and mineral kingdoms, in search of something that should restere the lost or decaying energies of the nervone and mineral systems, without the drawbock of subsequent prostration, which all stimulants, tonics, and narcotics had heretofore entailed. That something has been found. It is a vegetable production, brought from the sterile descrits of Arab a the Stony, by the celebrated Professor M. Morse, well known as a distinguished member of the leading scientific societies of the Old World, and equally distinguished as a physician; a chemist, and a traveler. The juices of his herb, concentrated and combined with other vegetable medicinal extracts, are now producing results heretofore unheard of, in this or any other country. At first the properties stiributed to Prof. MORSE'S INVIGORATING KLIXIR OR CORDIAL were deemed fabulous. The public often decoived could not betieve the sumple and sublime truths announced by the discoverer. But facts, midemiable facts attested by witnesses of the highest class and character, are now enoughling over all doubts. INCREDULITY IS OVER. THROWN, by a mass of testimony which is perfectly irrestable entered. DR. MORSE'S INVIGORATING BLIXIR OR CORDIAL.

The Elexist remedies, in all cases, the deplorable evils arising from a misuse or abase of the various organs which make up the wonderful muchine called man. It restores to full vigor every delicate function connected with that mysterious compound arency of matter and mind, becessary to the re-production of human life. To persons of feeble muscular frame, or deficient in vital power, it is recommended as the only means of communicating that energy which is necessary to the proper enjoyment of all the natural appetites, as well as the higher mental attributes. Its beneficial effects are not confined to either sex or to any age. The feeble girl, the alling wife, the listings or energy delity, or from the weakness of a single organ, wit all find immediate and permanent relief from the use of this incomparable renewator. To those who have a predisposition to paralysis it will prove a complete and unfailing assecuard against that terrible malady. There are many, perhaps, who have so trified with their constitutions, that they hink the use lives beyond the reach of medicine. Let not even these despair. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immedi No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the diseased, debilitated and shattered nervous system, whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrong and relaxed organization is atonce braced re-vivided and built up. The mental and physical symtoms of nervous disease vanish together under its influence. Nor is the effect temporary; on the contrary, the relief is permanent, for the cordial properties of the medicine reach the constitution itself, and restore it to its normal condition.—Well may the proparation be called her. of the nineteenth century. It is, as the first scientific manin the world would have admitted, that miracle of medicine stofore supposed to have no existance A Stimulant that Entails No Re-Action. Its force is never expanded, as is the case with opium, alco-holle preparations, and all other excitants. The effect of these is brief, and it may well be said of him who takes them, "The last state of that man is worse than the first." But the Elixir is an exhiberant without asingle drawback—safe in its operation, perpetual in its happy influence upon the nerves, the mind, and the entire organization; it will also remove de-pressions, excitement, a tendency to blush, siceplessness, distince of society, incapacity for sursy or business.

A Great Medicine for Females, A Grent Medicine for Females,

The unparalleled effects of this great restorative, in all complaints incident to females, mark a new era in the annals of medicine. Thousands of attimulants have been invented—thousands of invigorants concocled—all purporting to be specified in the various diseases and derangements to which the delicate formation of woman render her liable.—The result has heretolore been uniform. These contrams have indeed imparted a momentary rivacity to the nervous system, a transient and delusive vigor to the muscles; but this firsh of relief has been succeeded by a depression and prostration greater than before, and the end has too offen been utterly to paraly se the recuperative power of the nerves and the vital organization, and finally to destroy the unapply patient. But in Morse's Invigorating Elixir. is presented as a phenomena in the materia medica hitherto unheard of—a stimulant without a renetion.

The herb which forms its main ingredient, has been admitted by all the great medical and pharmacertical institutions of kurope to be in this respect sui generis. Dr. Morse, whose name is an andisputed authority in sciences, discovered the production in Arabia, where his atlantion was excited by the wonderfully invigorating effects it produced upon the natives. In fact the wonderfull power of endurance, the exhaustless vigor exhibited by the Arab, of both sexes, in their desert pilgrimages, is stiributable to the use of this visitalizing hert.

An appeal is made to Every Woman of Sense. who suffers from weakness, derangement, nervousness, tre-mors, pains in the back; or any other disorder, whather pecu-lier to her sex, or common in both sexes—to give the Invigowho would not have been so, but for this extraordinary preparation. And it is equally potent for the many diseases for which it is recommended. Thousands of young men have been restored by using it, and not in a single instance has it failed to benefit them.

Persons of Pale Complexion,

To the Misguided,
These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz. weakness of the back and limbs, pains in the head, dimness of sight, loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, dispepsis, nervous irritability, derangement of the digestive functions, general debility, symptoms of consumption, &c.

Mentally, the fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded. Loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of love of collude, timidity, &c., are some of the evils produced.

The Inquiry.

The following beautiful lines were written by Lady Frona HARTINGS, the victim of a cruel slander, originating among her associates in attendance upon Queen Victoria;

> Tell me, ye winged winds, That round my pathway roar, Do ye not know some spot Where mortals weep no more? Some lone and pleasant dell, Some valley in the west,

Where free from toll and pain, The weary soul may rest? The load wind softened to a whisper low, And sighed for pity as it answered-"No!"

Whose billows round me play Knowest thou some favored suct. Some Island far away. . Where weary man way find The bliss for which he sighs? Where sorrow never lies. And friendship never dies? The loud waves, rolling in perpetual flow,

Stopped for awhile, and answered-"No!"

Tell me, thou mighty deep,

That with such holy face, Doch look upon the earth, Asleep in night's embrace-Tell me, in all thy round, Hast thou not seen some spot Where miserable man May find a happier lot? Behind a cloud the moon withdrew in woe,

And a voice sweet but sad responded-"No!" Tell me, my secret soul, Oh! tell me Hope and Faith-Is there no resting place From sorrow, sin, and death? Is there no happy spot Where mortals may be blest?

Where grief may find a balm, And weariness a rest? Faith, Hope and Love, best boons to mortals given, Waved their bright wings and whispered, "Yes," in Heaven.

Going Down Hill.

"That looks bad." exclaimed farmer White, with an expressive shake of his head, as he passed a neglected garden and broken down fence, in one of his daily walks. "Bad enough," was the reply of the companion to whom the remark was addressed. "Neighbor Thompson appears to be running down hill pretty fast. I can remember when every thing around his little place was trim and tidy." "He always appeared to be a steady, industrious man," rejoined the second speaker. "I have a pair of boots on my feet at this moment of his make, and they have done me good service." "I have generally employed him for myself and

In another part of the little viliage similar scenes were passing. "I declare," exclaimed Mrs. Bennett, the dressmaker, to a favorite assistant, as she hastily withdrew her head from the window, whence she had been gazing on the passers-by : "if there is not Mrs. Thompson, the shoemaker's wife, coming up the steps with a parcel in her hand. "Ah, Mrs. Thompson, I am glad to see you." was the salutation. "I was about calling at your account this afternoon?" "Our account!" was the surprised reply. "Sure-do to go on in this way." A little discomposed by her interview with the teacher, Mrs. Thompson stepped into a neighboring grocery to purchase some trifling article of family stores. "I have a little account against you. Will it be convenient for Mr. Thompson to settle it this evening?" asked the polite shopkeeper, as he produced the desired article. "Is it his usual time for settling?" was again the surprised inquiry. "Well, not exactly; but money is very tight just now, and I am anxious to get all that is due me. In future I intend to keep short accounts. There is a little bill, if you would like to look at it. I will call around this evening. It is but a small af-

"Thirty dollars is no small sum to us just now," thought Mrs. Thompson, as she thoughtfully pursued her way toward home. "It seems strange that all these payments must be met just now, while we are struggling to recover from the heavy expenses of the winter. I cannot understand it." Her perplexity was increased by finding her husband with two bills in his hand and a countenance expressive of anxiety and concern.

"Look, Mary," he said, as she entered, "Here are two unexpected calls for money; one from the doctor, and the other from the dealer in leather from whom I purchased my last stock. They are both very urgent for immediate payment although they have always been willing to wait a few months until I could make arrangements to meet their claims. But misfortunes never come single, and if a man gets a little behindhand, trouble seems to pour in upon him."

"Just so," replied the wife. "The neighbors think we are going down hill, and every one is ready to give us a push. Here are two more bills for you-one from the grocer, and the other from the Reply was prevented by a knock at the door, and the appearance of a lad, who presented a neatly folded paper, and dissappeared.

"The butcher's account, as I live!" exclaimed the astonished shoemaker-"What is to be done. Mary? If I could only have as much employment as usual, and the usual credit allowed meet them now is impossible, and the acknowledgment of my inability would send us still further on the downward path."

But the answer was still more resolved, and I heard an oath, as he said, "He would not be chained by a woman," and again the heavy footsteps strided towards the door.

The room was next to mine, and I knew was cocupied by a husband and wife. I had often seen them going in and out, and noticed the expression of concealed anxiety and suffering which a practiced eye may still detect on a heroic woman's countenance. But the light step of love was quicker, and I heard the key turned, as she said, "You must not, must not" --- and oh! the agony of these gentle tones.

There was a struggle -a faint scream, and she fell.
